DEDICATION

We, the class of 1967, dedicate this Teacher's Bulletin to Molly Gallagher, our former classmate.

MOLLY GALLAGHER
1945 - 1964

Foreword

College Misericordia presents the education students of the class of 1967. As the cover of this book demonstrates, the roads of education are many and varied, but inevitably lead a student to the right choice of a station in life. In modern living, education is the key to the door of opportunity. The students presented in this section of the book have received their education and are now prepared to accept teaching positions, thus enabling them to open this door for students who will come under their jurisdiction.

The qualifications of the students are included along with a list of their individual activities. A key to abbreviations used for club activities will be found in the back of the book.

Further information may be obtained by writing the Placement Office, College Misericordia, or by contacting individual students.

Who's Who	Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges

At a time when the world is in a chaotic state, one is not surprised to find a kind of revolution in education. Success in the revolution is imminent only if proper steps are taken to insure it.

This means involving those concerned with education, both from within and outside the field, to scrutinize honestly, responsibly, and thoroughly what facts of education need to be altered and which basic truths must be recognized as immutable.

Inherent in this is the need for teachers to subscribe to a worthwhile philosophy in their own lives; to set personal and professional goals and to couple with this a willingness to work to attain these goals. In the light of the world situation, teachers need to instruct students in the effectiveness of real communication.

Youth, to become worthy citizens, must be helped to understand and appreciate their cultural heritage and the heritage of world cultures; to develop a respect for learning. They must be guided in valuing attitudes of intellectual honesty and personal responsibility. From their efforts, teachers may hope to fulfill the dominant purpose of education, namely, the development of the intellectual potential of the student, for everyone is destined by his Creator to become a whole person.
